

COLLINS & MOLLICONE

Alison Collins,

"Soprano Alison Collins' singing has been described as effortless and unhurried, featuring high notes with ease." (The Modesto Bee)

Last spring, Ms. Collins performed in Shanghai where she sang the soprano solos in Carmina Burana with Ballet San José on their goodwill tour of China. Recently, Ms. Collins appeared in the title role of Henry Mollicone's Starbird.

A Songfest!

Songs from the cabaret and the recital hall featuring lieder of Bellini, Schubert, Mollicone and the great American popular songs of Kern, Rodgers & Hart, Strayhorn, Carmichael and more...

"...One of the most distinctive American opera composers." (The Washington Post)

Henry Mollicone,

piano

His works have been performed by JoAnn Falletta, Amy Burton, Marnie Breckenridge, Music from Copland House, Frederica Von Stade, Erie Mills, D'Anna Fortunato, and Maria Spacagna. His BEATITUDE MASS ("mass for the homeless"), was performed in July, 2009 at the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception's Crypt Church in Washington, DC.